

The Truth of The Future

By:Shai Moscovich

Today I will tell you about my magical adventure to the future. It was to be honest the best day (or should I say days) of my life. Me and a few other people that are just as curious as me to know what happens in the future got into a spaceship. I would explain the trip itself just I couldn't see anything at all. There was just stardust surrounding us. The stardust was blue and a deep lavender, so beautiful. The spaceship was going at the speed light. We got there in approximately 19 seconds. We got out of the spaceship and I just couldn't believe it!

The future will be full of so many new things that we won't even be able to think of or even believe now! New fashion trends, foods, animals and of course a lot of new technology. It will be amazing! So much new colorful, oddly shaped plants and flowers. Beautiful skies all the time! Sparkly blues, Deep lavenders and maybe sometimes green! Gigantic drones for humans to ride and flying cars! The future will be amazing and here's why.....

First off technology. Let's start with phones. They would be holographic and no one can snoop on your phone since only you can see it. Every phone will come with a different password that is implanted in your brain. The phone scans you and if you don't have the correct password then you can't see it. Ipads are almost the same, just instead of getting a password implanted in your brain you get a face scanner. Or you could just use your phone password. Instagram and snapchat would be ancient history and don't even get me started on vine! Instead everyone will use Hatchbox. Hatchbox is an app that kind of works like Instagram and Twitter with a feature of snapchat. The snapchat feature lets you make and use face filters.

Now plants, the coolest part of the future in my opinion. So many new plants and flowers. The colors of them are so, so beautiful and the shapes are so very odd. I never knew that plants could grow in shapes like these ones! Some bushes look like boxing gloves in varieties of colors like red, pink, green, blue and so much more! My personal favourite flower is the silver and bright red one that kind of looks like a mushroom just with leaves that drip if they are to dry. I also love the flower that looks like a dark green mountain of glitter that poofs up at anyone who touches it. (I learned the hard way.) Cotton candy grass and lollipop trees, way too much for me to take in!

So I bet you've been wondering about transportation, and yes flying cars will exist. There will be a steering wheel on both sides and a built in voice commanding system that will play you any song that you request. Riding drones to work is apparently going to be a thing as well. Human ridden drones are all the commotion in the upcoming years. Don't even get me started on hover boards. No they don't have two wheels, they actually float in the air. Remember in the back to the future movie, yeah it exists. Even though ships can't fly they can however use their jet force to hover over any obstacles in the ocean.

The food that people eat in the future is very tasty and sometimes very odd. For example the soups at the store are sold freeze dried and the veggies in the salads look like sprinkles. If you want a drink then all you need to do is put a ice cube looking thing in your mouth and think of a flavour and if it is fizzy or not. The candy is finally healthy, yet oversized. Each candy is filled with all of the vitamins and minerals that you need. Food coloring is no longer used. Everything is naturally coloured. If you use food colouring you are committing a crime. Food is one of the biggest entertainments of the future, even more than it is now.

When we got back I couldn't believe how cool the future will be. I can't wait!

And that is the truth of the future!
