

THE HOLLOW IN THE WOODS!

Finally, moaned Enid, I have pins and needles. Why don't you go and play with your friends? Suggested Enid's mom. Ok said Enid and ran off. She found her friends in a small tent in the middle of the seven cabins. Hello, said Enid. Enid! Cried Hana, Evalin, Asha, Maddy, and Alice guess what?! What? Asked Enid. Alice found a hollow about five feet into the woods, and we are going to explore it! Can you come? Shore said Enid. As they ran towards the trees Enid thot, she saw a slight movement in the trees, and she shivered. So, we are shore nothing is in there? Asked Enid. Besides a couple of wiled coyotes, we are shore replied Maddy. But when they stepped into the clearing what they saw made them all fall silent. There in the middle of the clearing was a see throe figure! Hello. Said the figgier in an oily voice. Suddenly Hana erupted like a volcano and sped out of the hollow the rest of them followed her. When they were all inside the tent and the door was closed Hana finally spoke. I know what that was that was she whispered that was a ghost.

Ghosts don't exist!

But ghosts don't exist, Maddy pointed out. Then what was that person, asked Hana. They all shivered. Well, I do not know what that was, but I am shore that it is not a ghost. Well, all we know said Asha is that it is not normal. Right, but I'm with Hana all sines point to ghost but also Maddy is right ghosts don't exist said Evalin. So, all we know is that was not at all normal said Enid. I wonder if we can sleep outside suggested Asha. Why on earth would we do that, cried Maddy?! Because said Asha if that "thing" comes back then we mite see it, explained Asha. OK said Maddy! Let's do it, cheered Alice! That night they came to an agreement with the parents that if they slept outside, they would need to sleep in the bug tent. They all brought sleeping bags and a flashlight. When they ware all Reddy to go, they turned on thar flashlights and stepped out into the cool dark night. They scanned the ground with thar flashlights and all of a sudden, I see something, shouted Enid! What she had found was a small remote. She picked it up and they ran back to the tent. What is that, asked Hana? I do not know, replied Enid. Enid pressed the middle button, and they disappeared in a clawed of smoke.

WHAT IS GOING ON?!

What is going on, screamed Asha! They where in a whirlpool of light. I have no idea Enid screamed back! All of a sudden as fast as it started it stopped and they all fell to the ground. They found themselves in the hollow in the woods! Hello again said an oily voice that they all recognized at ones! It was the ghost! AAAAHHHHH!!! They all screamed at the same time! Alice ran out of the hollow and the rest of them followed her! as they left Enid cote a glimpse of something white on the ground. She picked it up and dashed after her friends. Ones they all in the tent Enid showed them the thing that she had found it was a letter. And on the front of the letter, it said ENID! Let's go to our cabins, whispered Maddy. They all ran back to thar cabins! Enid code not sleep that night she decided to not open the letter. Besides thot Enid, its not like I haft to.

THE GENIE

Enid met back up with her friends and they all decided to not open the letter. But just when they al decided not to open the letter the letter opened itself and the ghost floated out! This time they were ready for it! Ahh lwas expecting you, said the ghost in his oily voice. You see he continued I'm not actually a ghost I'm a genie. What cried Hana, all this time we've bine running away from a genie. I guess so said the genie. Wow said Hana. Can you grant us three wishes asked Asha? Sure, said the genie. Well first we wish that you code come back every year!

So that was that and the genie came back every year and they became very very good friends.

THE END.
